GEORGIAN LANDSCAPE DESIGN RELOCATES

ATLANTA – February 20, 2007 --- After a year and a half headquartered in Norcross, Georgian Landscape Design now calls Suwanee home.

"With both of the kids gone, we really didn't need that size home," says owner Ed Szczesniak. "We loved what we found in Suwanee."

GLD specializes in landscape design for homes and businesses. Szczesniak decided to go to school for landscaping after 30 years in management consulting and nurturing what he calls a "hobby gone horribly out of control."

"I told my wife that if she watches 'American Idol', I'm going back to college at night," he says. "I learned what I could and the rest is history."

Since launching the business, Szczesniak has contracted more than 20 houses and finished his first commercial project. "It's the first thing I've ever done in 30 years that I can step back and take a picture of," he says. "It's very self-rewarding. I get to work under the sun instead of under fluorescents."
